LIMA, OHIO, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 4, 1920

PRICE THREE CENTS

BRITAIN DEMANDS RUSSIA'S TRUCE ANSWER

WRITE 300 WORDS AND WIN PRIZE

Ten dollars For Persons Submitting Best Letters

EVERY CITIZEN IS ELIGIBLE
Information May Be Secured from City Officials

Every man, woman and child in this city is interested in the welfare of Lima. That is the reason the contest being conducted by The News and Times-Democrat in which $10 in prizes for the best letters on why the river retaining wall should be made possible by the passage of the bond issue at the primary election next Tuesday should appeal to everyone.

The contest is open to everyone, young or old. There are no conditions except that letters be not more than 300 words and should set forth the reasons why the bond issue should carry. Letters should be addressed to the editor of The News and Times-Democrat. Authors should sign their names and addresses.

For the best letter on this subject, a prize of $5 will be paid; for the next best, a prize of $3 will be paid and for the third best $2 will be paid. Winners will be announced next Monday in this newspaper.

EASY TO WRITE
These letters will be easy to write. Practically everyone is familiar with the situation. The bond issue has been voted on twice before and lost by narrow margins. A majority voted for it at the last election, but a two-thirds vote is necessary.

As a hint to those who are not familiar with the situation, the city promised to build the retaining wall to protect the private property along the river when the improvement was started. Money has not been available for this and as a result the work already completed is deteriorating and the city is facing a number of damage suits, one already having been filed.

The wall is not merely for the benefit of those property owners along the river. If a large number of judgments for damages are secured in court as they surely will because the city will have no defense in court, the taxpayers in general will pay the judgments. In addition to this they will lose the benefit of the work already done.

PART OF GENERAL PLAN
This improvement is a part of the general scheme to give the city a modern sewer system, sewage disposal plant, adequate storm sewer facilities and a cleaning up of the river to beautify it and remove the objectionable stretches which have been a menace for years. The whole municipality benefits if the bond issue carries.

Those desiring further information on the subject may secure it by calling the mayor, service director or secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

Write your letters at once. You may write as many as you like, the more the better your chance for winning one of the cash prizes.

$1,000,000 TOLL TAKEN BY FIRE

Bradford, Ohio, Swept by Flames—Many Homeless

CINCINNATI. — (By United Press.)—Fire, starting from a lumber yard, swept thru the business section of Bradford, Ohio, early Wednesday, causing loss estimated by bankers at more than $1,000,000. More than a score of families were made homeless by the blaze which partially destroyed the town.

So far as known, there were no casualties, although a further check will be necessary to check up on residents in the path of the flames.

A telephone exchange on the main street of the town was destroyed by the fire and Bradford was cut off from wire communication Wednesday.

Train service on the Pennsylvania line, which passes thru Bradford, was delayed for more than four hours while the fire raged.

It was estimated Wednesday more than a dozen business houses had been destroyed.

The Red Cross chapter at Dayton, is ready to rush aid to Bradford if needed.

WAGE BOOST GRANTED
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—Manufacturers have granted an increase ranging from 10 to 15 per cent for the machine press department of the conference here with representatives of the American Flint Glass Workers' Union. The men asked 25 per cent, but expressed entire satisfaction with the concession given.

The question of the hours for the mould-making department was the subject of the conference Wednesday. The men want forty-four hours instead of the present basis of forty-eight.

'GIVE SERVICE' MAYOR'S STAND

Executive Delays Signing Ordinance Granting Increase in Car Fare Until After Conference With Officials Of the Ohio Electric

Mayor Burkhardt's signature has not yet been affixed to the ordinance passed Monday night allowing the Ohio Electric seven cent car fare in Lima.

The mayor declared Wednesday that inasmuch as the increase was granted on condition that the increased revenue would be used for improvement of equipment and betterment of service, he will have a conference with Vice President McClure of the Ohio Electric, and ascertain as near as possible what action the O. E. will take, before he signs the ordinance.

"I find," said the mayor, "that there is very little opposition to an increase in fares, but the people demand service. Street car patrons as a whole are more concerned as to the kind of equipment used and service rendered than in the question of a slight increase in fares."

The mayor said the question of maintaining a schedule on the Grand-ave line is one of the points he will insist on the Ohio Electric carrying out. He said he did not know whether this has been discussed with McClure or not.

Resident Manager J. B. Dugan said Wednesday McClure is expected to return from Philadelphia Thursday.

The ordinance will become effective 30 days after it is signed by the mayor.

COX CHALLENGE TO HARDING HINTED

Governor May Ask the Senator for Joint Debate

PLANS DAILY BOMBARDMENT

Opening Gun to be Fired Following His Notification

DAYTON. — (By United Press.)—Governor Cox indicated Wednesday that he is preparing a vigorous, daily political bombardment of the Republican position, the opening gun of which will be fired after notification ceremonies Saturday.

Cox is observing the several attacks that have been made upon him and George White, his campaign manager, by the Harding stronghold at Marion, the governor is "hearing to go." He has left he cannot with propriety answer the Republican attack until he has delivered his speech of acceptance, but it is evident he is eager for the period of silence to end. He is particularly desirous of taking the political offensive in his speech of acceptance and holding it through his stump campaign.

MAY ISSUE CHALLENGE
It is probable that the nominee will fire a series of questions at Harding and the rumor persists that he may challenge the Republican candidate to a joint debate, despite the fact that the senator has indicated he was opposed to such a plan. Cox daily is assigning Democratic speakers to debates on the league and other questions at Chautauquas.

Wednesday the governor plans to attend the Dayton Democratic Club picnic at Shiloh, near here, and will make "a talk to the boys" as he expressed it. He probably will steer clear of political issues, because of his desire to withhold all such discussion until his speech of acceptance. He will motor to the picnic grounds in company with local Democratic leaders.

PLANNING TRIP
Tuesday night Cox motored to his farm near Jacksonburg, for a rest, and returned to Dayton early Wednesday morning.

The governor is planning his trip thru the middle west so that he will reach the big farming sections when there is a fall in farm work, realizing that farmers are loathe to leave crops lying in the fields to hear a political speech.

"I want to hit these sections after the grain is threshed and before it is time to cut corn," he said.

CAR MEN STRIKE
Ashtabula Service is Tied Up by Walkout

ASHTABULA, O.—By Associated Press.—Ashtabula was entirely without street car service Wednesday due to a strike of Ashtabula Rapid Transit Company employees, which went into effect Wednesday morning.

The men left their jobs because of an order posted last Wednesday, putting into effect a one-man crew system. This was done, car officials said, as a retrenchment measure.

The street car line has been purchased by the city, but the transfer has not yet been completed and the line is still in the hands of the A. R. T. people. A statement from the men said they did not consider the car rate for one man to operate. They charge that they are without hand brakes, gongs or fenders.

FREMONT—Three persons injured and 10 passengers thrown from a car when a passenger train stalled and derailed on the Erie Railroad at Fremont, Pa., Tuesday.

MANX TO BE ALLOWED TO LAND AT LIVERPOOL
LONDON.—Archbishop Daniel Mannix will be permitted to land at Liverpool upon his arrival from New York, it was learned officially Wednesday. The movements of the prelate, whose statements in America indicating sympathy with the Sinn Fein angered British officials, will not be interfered with, unless he becomes "unpleasant." It was stated, however, that Mannix, if he is to be allowed to land, will be escorted.

WET PLANK WINS IN COMMITTEE
SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y.—A proposed plank calling attention to the 25 per cent beer bill adopted by the 1920 legislature caused discussion Wednesday during the deliberations of the sub-committee drafting the platform to be submitted to the Democratic unofficial state convention at the closing session. The beer plank was adopted by the committee, however, by a vote of 21 to 9.

Advocates of a plank endorsing the bill and recommending similar national legislation were opposed by delegates who believed the beer plank was too much at variance with the prohibition stand of the national platform.

The latter delegates held that prohibition should not be regarded as a state issue, and they preferred a platform that would come out plainly for enforcement of the present laws.

Modification of the Volstead prohibition enforcement act, recognition of the Irish republic, affirmation of faith in the national Democratic platform and endorsement of the nominations of Cox and Roosevelt, enthusiastic commendation of Governor Smith's administration of state affairs reorganization of the state government by consolidation of existing departments, centralization of authority, creation of an executive budget system, a four year term for governor, belief in the principle of direct primaries, home rule for cities and state development of hydro electric power are the principal planks of the platform submitted by the committee on resolutions.

The plank on the Volstead act follows: "We favor amendment to the so-called Volstead act that will make operative the act passed by the state legislature and signed by Governor Smith, defining non-intoxicating beverages and providing for the regulation of their sale."

"We favor an amendment to the national constitution whereby all amendments to the constitution of the United States hereafter proposed shall be ratified by a referendum of the whole people and not by the legislatures of the several states."

HITS AT NATION LEAGUE

Warns Against Pact in Speech to Wayne-co Delegation

MARION.—(By Associated Press.)—Decriing appeals to classes, as a menace second only to surrender of nationality to internationalism, Senator Harding, in his second front porch presidential campaign speech Wednesday, declared that if he could choose but one, he would "rather have industrial and social peace at home than command the international peace of all the world."

He asserted it would be unwise for this country to permit "our activities in seeking for peace in the old world to blind us to the essentials of peace at home," and added that "if America can be made to forget the attempted harter of nationality, well and good," but that "when nationality is surrendered to internationalism, little else matters, and all appeal is vain." The address was delivered to a delegation of Wayne-co Republicans.

SEES WAR DANGER
Taking up the league of nations, Senator Harding declared it to be the other extreme to a referendum on a proposed declaration of war. "I emphatically agree," he said, "that no authority other than congress may call our boys to battle, accepting this truth, why make a covenant which violates the good faith of nations interested?"

"Suppose," he continued, "that under Article X, a program of armed force is agreed upon, and the congress of the United States declines to respond, the executive would be called upon to carry on a war without constitutional authority, or we should prove our compact no more than a scrap of paper. We are on the side of both safety and honor to hold for ourselves the decision of our obligations to the world."

PIONEER AMERICAN
Senator Harding's address, in part, follows:

"You must be confidently and fearlessly American to measure to the renowned name of Wayne. The story of Wayne-co is that of the great beginning of the northwest territory, whose sturdy citizenship was strengthened by the hardships of the pioneer."

"The pioneer gave the conquering westward march of civilization, our obligations are to preserve and defend. Some day I hope we shall fittingly commemorate the sacrifices and achievements of these courageous frontiersmen and their strong-hearted women."

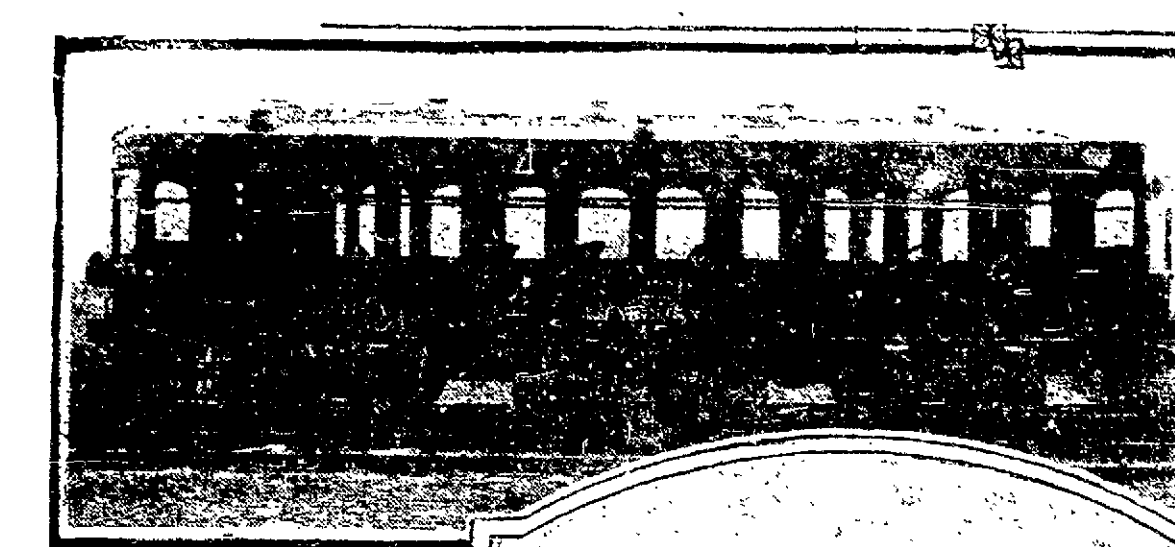

"It is worth remembering that the pioneers—these stalwart makers of America—were little less varied in their origin than the people of today. Either they or their forebears came from lands across the sea. But they were thinking only of America. There was more than mere allegiance to the land of adoption, they were interested and devoted heart and soul, they were in complete unison, with one purpose, one confidence, one pride."

"When I sat on the Senate committee on foreign relations, and listened to American delegations appealing in behalf of kinmen or old homelands across seas, I caught the aspirations of nationality, and a perfectly natural sympathy among kindred in this republic. But I little realized then how we might send the concord of American citizenship in our seeking to solve old-world problems."

EXPRESSED ANXITIES
There have come to me, not at all unconsciously, the expressed anxieties of American foreign-born, who are asking our country's future attitude on territorial awards in the adjustment of peace. They are Americans all, but they have a proper and natural interest in the fortunes of kinfolk and native lands. One can not blame them, if our land is to settle the envious, rivalries, jealousies and hatreds of all civilizations, these adopted sons of the republic want the settlement favorable to the land from which they came."

"The misfortune is not alone that it renders the concord of nations; it renders the greater pity is that it renders the concord of our citizenship at home. It is folly to think of blending Greek and Bulgarian, Italian and Slav, or (Continued On Page Two)

U. S. URGED TO ENTER FIGHT FOR POLAND

American Support to Free, State Pledged, Utah Senator Declares in Asking Action Against Reds—Would Reconvene Congress at Once

WASHINGTON. — (By United Press.) — "President Wilson should reconvene congress at once and lay before it the Polish situation if necessary, to insure the United States redeeming its pledge to help maintain the independence of the Polish nation," declared Senator King, of Utah, a Democrat, Wednesday.

King asserted that the United States was a party to promises made before the armistice and repeated in the armistice terms, to support Poland as a free state.

"I would not do now," he said, "but those promises go unheeded."

King declared the fact that in 1915, Lord Reading, the British envoy to the United States on behalf of his government, urged President Wilson most earnestly to fight the Bolsheviks in support of the allies. The arguments advanced in favor of that course at the time were that unless the Bolsheviks were stopped, the world must face either a German victory or a new war on Bolshevikism, which no action would be safe. But the president declined to be moved, on the ground Russia might be driven away from the allied cause.

Senator Hitchcock, administration leader, said the president can do nothing about Poland without calling congress, except to express his sympathy or moral support.

The few members of congress who are in the city, declared emphatically that the question of the country is not favorable to sending troops to Poland even though the American people are in sympathy with Poland.

BOYS SOUGHT IN BIG BOND THEFT CASE
CHICAGO.—Cleveland policemen, aided by Chicago officers, Wednesday continued their search for two Chicago boys, alleged to have engineered a $55,000 bond theft in Ohio city. The boys were known as "Mickey" and "Slim."

A Cleveland boy also implicated, was arrested and was reported to have confessed.

HALF-MILE POST NEAR AT HAND

Candidates Making Final Spurt in Primary Running Race

AWAIT VOX POPULI VERDICT

Political "Bird" is Indeed a Rare and Peculiar "Animal"

(BY J. W. FISHER)

Go where you will and you will find that adherents of old line political parties take their politics seriously and that they are "ferriest" the aforesaid taking in homeopathic doses. They like it drastically.

Of all the political sub-divisions of the Buckeye state, Auglaize-co is probably the most striking example of this sort of situation. Unless it be Darke-co. This latter county is torn asunder by sentiments in both the old parties and the situation does not improve with time. With two candidates for the Democratic nomination for Congressmen this year, the conditions are aggravated in a manner that does not make for anything like unanimity of purpose, but while they have a habit of fighting like Kilkenny cats in a primary campaign, they likewise have a strong predilection for forgetting the old scores and getting together in the election.

Dwight Matchett, almost lifelong resident of Darke-co and who is never happier than when up to his eyes in political gore, is authority for the statement that down Greenville way they have such a penchant for betting that they (both men and women) lay wagers on the result of any old kind of election, from dogcatcher to president. Of course, the scrap for the congressional nomination is the big noise and since Judge George Mannix, Jr., one of the Darke-co candidates, has carried the fight successfully into Allen-co, the home of the presently victorious B. F. Veltz and a candidate for re-nomination, Dwight has it that the betting has hit Darke-co folks more forcibly than ever. Just what that county will do to or for candidates Mannix and John Maher is the question that agitates most. In any event, with a particularly ardent county campaign on and with two aspirants for Congress, it is a supposition in Darke-co.

In a resume of affairs political in Auglaize-co, one of the angles that is a part and parcel of each and every county campaign has to do with the matter of the selection of deputies. Despite the fact that the law forbids against candidates making any pre-election promise of value to induce vote getting, from time immemorial almost, the Democratic candidates for sheriff, justice of the peace, and other offices, have been accused of promising deputyships at an unseemly time. The accusations come from the G. O. P. mostly.

For instance, when James M. Schockley was about to retire from the office of sheriff, his deputy, Jacob Schrage, became a candidate for the Democratic nomination. Ora Hinton of St. Marys, likewise threw his chaplain into the circle. The cry went up that if Schrage was nominated and elected, he intended retaining Schockley as his deputy. The imputation was denied, but Schrage was defeated and Hinton won. The procedure to select as his deputy William Lear, who had previously served four years as sheriff and four years as a deputy. This added four more years for Bill—12 in all, as sheriff and deputy.

Schrage is again a candidate for the nomination. Lear also entered the race and the same old fight is on. Lear is accused by his enemies of trying to get a life lease on the county jail and he is also accused of having promised Sheriff Hinton to retain him as his deputy. Likely the same old story is being used just the same. In the same manner Schrage is again accused of having promised the deputyship, in event he is nominated and elected, to former Sheriff Schockley, who has been out of office four years and engaged in the automobile business. So strong has come the accusation that, in giving the lie, Schrage went into town with a statement of positive denial of any such promise, making it plain that there is no chance of the position of deputy being offered to Schockley.

All this in the face of the fact that other county officials are persisting in retaining former deputies as their deputies and likewise despite the fact that Jim Schockley was one of the best sheriffs Auglaize-co ever had. Verily, the political "bird" is a strange "animal."

Speaking of the situation in Auglaize-co as it obtains at the present moment, in fact as it frames up most any time during most any year, it is a safe bet that there isn't another county in this commonwealth where the voters, Democrats and Republicans alike, are so obsessed to a degree with the firm conviction that the very continuance of the government and the regulation of the sun, moon and stars depends upon the success of their particular party in any election, municipal, state or national, with district results thrown in for good measure.

Old Auglaize-co has been bulwark of simon pure Democracy for so many years. Once upon a time one Republican broke into the county house, thru the door of the surveyor's office, but he didn't have sufficient brawn to get in and was hauled out at the very first opportunity.

The Republican organ ever wa-

Wapakoneta-way leaves the impression (in its opinion) that all Democrats are blacklegs and scoundrels and thieves and that everybody is going to vote a Republican ticket. The Wapakoneta organ has been predicting the election of a full Republican ticket in the county for so many years, without tangible results in the final analysis, that the Democrats took upon it as the faded cry of "Wolfe!" Perhaps the Republican editor believes that if he keeps up the hue and cry indefinitely, some time it may come true.

At any rate, he sure is raising all kinds of hop hope in the minds of the G. O. P. adherents and his pipe is going full blast. The Republican leaders of the county copped off about all the places on the ticket for nomination for themselves, as usual, putting themselves in position to reap the benefits of anything that happens. The Democrats pursue the even tenor of their way and are content to permit their friends the enemy to yawn to their heart's content. But after all, it is voters that count and the Republicans are obsessed with the belief that they are about to corner the market in that respect over in a next county. Hope deferred isn't made them heartier and they're still mighty good little old claimers.

This is the last full week for activity among the excited folks who are chasing political rainbows for state, district, or county preferment and everyone of the contingent hoping that the end of the rainbow will come down in this front yard, while he has a listening post, while out among the folks day and night, urging them to rally at the polls next Tuesday. Not all of the fellows have such pretensions front porches as adorn the home of W. G. H. at Marion and besides they are "red" of the results if they should be elected. Some are professedly in the home for the purpose of assistance to be brought around and rendered to them. They believe that the Lord helps those who help themselves. Consequently they are busy, tired and footsore, haggard and worn, anxious and nervous, the whole, making horns has broken into a trot and the close of the week will be a hot-for-all running race, the best winded being bunched at the wire next Tuesday. Only those who have had personal experience along that particular line are able to appreciate the exact state of feeling of the hopeful optimists and expectant candidates. He is torn by conflicting emotions as he contemplates the finish of the race. His ear is close to the ground for the verdict of vox populi. He is on the alert for the injection of eleventh hour roar into the campaign. His smile is gleaming in place and he almost fears the echoes of his own footsteps.

It's a gay life, if one doesn't break down while it is on. The most cheering aspect of the whole thing is that the end of the first week is that the end of the first week is the full political pastime is near at hand. The primary election is the half-mile post in the political running race. Some of the candidates are already exhibiting evidences of joint soreness as a result of contact with the political nag, but have no intention of doing otherwise than persevering until the bitter end. With the race only half run, heaven help those who are chosen to finish the course. Their troubles are many, their woes acute. They are not aided by others, save those who will be left at the half-way post. And even these latter do not appreciate the fact that they ought to be happy.

M'KINNON SUIT UP SATURDAY

Husband's Charges Will be Pressed Before Court

According to S. A. Armstrong, attorney for Herbert McKinnon, the divorce case of McKinnon against his wife, Marvella McKinnon, will be up for final hearing in common pleas court, Saturday.

When the case was heard in June, Judge William Klinger reserved his decision until such a time as medical testimony could be introduced to indicate the wife's physical condition. At that time she was living with her mother in Delphos. She is believed to be the same woman arrested at Indianapolis a few days ago, in company with John Schiemer, Lima. Attorney Armstrong says he will introduce testimony to show the husband's claims of joy rides taken with other men can easily be substantiated. McKinnon is a young farmer, living near Elida.

Marvella Gertrude Klein has brought an action in common pleas court against Michael Klein, charging him with being a bigamist. She said at the time they were married, in September, 1913, in Troy, he had another wife living, from whom he was not divorced. His whereabouts are unknown. She asks the restoration of her maiden name of Nettie Gertrude Coleman.

HONEY FOUNTAIN IN SHAWNEE

Mayor Burkhardt's Father Has Handiwork Imaginable

A veritable fountain of honey has been discovered at the residence of George Burkhardt, in Shawnee, five miles southwest of Lima. The flow of honey is reported to have burst forth from the weatherboard of the building at a point 20 feet from the ground, following a heavy thunderstorm several days ago. Since that time pans and buckets have been used to collect this choice delicacy, as it flows from the side of the house, and several quart jars have been rescued.

After investigation it was learned that a swarm of bees had taken refuge under the eaves of the house four years ago, and have since that time made it their home, doubling and trebling in number each year. Various estimates have been made as to the amount of honey which may be stored beneath the weatherboard of the house, many of them running as high as 200 pounds. The owner of the house is Mayor Burkhardt's father.

BELIEVE KIDNAPER IN CUSTODY

Authorities Hope to Learn Whereabouts of Coughlin Baby

PHILADELPHIA.—(By United Press.) Authorities hoped to learn Wednesday the whereabouts of the missing baby, kidnapped from a man arrested at Erie Harbor, N. J. Authorities are convinced the man under arrest is the man who obtained $12,000 from the baby's father on an unfulfilled promise to return the child and was arrested when he was hunting another $10,000.

Thru a comparison of fingerprints of the man in custody with those found on the window sill when the child was stolen, authorities hope to establish definitely whether or not "The Crank" was the actual kidnaper.

Postal inspectors Wednesday claimed they had sufficient evidence to convict the man held in custody on blackmail charges; even if they could not establish definitely that he was the kidnaper.

When arrested, the suspect was said to have in his possession copies of Coughlin's correspondence with "The Crank."

The theory on which the federal officials worked Wednesday was that several others were working with "The Crank" and they said no evidence would be made until they had arrested the conspirators.

HOME PEACE FIRST, HARDING URGES

making any of them reluctantly Americans when the land of adoption is in judgment on the land from which they came.

"Governor Coolidge spoke the other day of the rescue of America from the reactions of war. We also need to be rescued from the vision and fruitless pursuit of peace thru super-government. I do not want Americans of foreign birth making their party alignments on what we mean to do for some nation of the old world. We want them to be Republicans because of what we mean to do for the United States of America. Our call is for union, not rivaling sympathies, our need is concord, not the antipathies of long inheritance."

HOME PEACE ESSENTIALS

"Surely, no one stopped to think where the great world-experiment was leading; frankly, no one could know. We are only learning now. It would be a sorry day for this republic if we allowed our activities in seeking for peace in the old world to blind us to the essentials of peace at home."

There is another thought relating to concord so essential to continued advancement. It was said the other day that the Democratic party meant especially to appeal to the farmers and the wage-earners, and let America forget the failure of the world experiment. It is a sad attitude toward the league have now reached the point where Governor Cox felt it necessary to serve blunt warning on the chairman of the Democratic national committee to talk less and saw more wood," the Republican statement says.

"In plain terms, Governor Cox has rebuked the national chairman, and told him to mind his own business."

The alleged "crack" between Cox and White is supposed to come from White's recent statement that the league of nations will not figure as the predominant issue in the forthcoming campaign.

The statement from Republican headquarters sees in the situation a chance that White will resign the national chairmanship.

"There isn't any government part in fixing punishment, profession of employment. Perhaps I ought to modify that and say, except during war and we want to end that interference. We want a free America again. We want America free at home and free in the world. We want to silence the outcry of nation against nation, and we wish to understand and we wish to ally the cry of class against class and stifle the party appeal to class so that we may insure tranquility in our freedom. If I could choose but one, I had rather have industrial and social peace at home than commercial international peace of all the world."

"In the study of the great world tragedy, some one has pointed out that the world-war might have been avoided if United Germany had adopted that feature of our constitution which gives congress the right to declare war. Many advocates of pacifism think our safeguards are against nation, that there should be a referendum to the people before a war. The other extreme in found among those who seriously propose that a council of foreign powers shall summon the sons of this republic to war anywhere in the world. I emphatically agree that no authority other than congress may call our boys to battle, accepting this truth, why make a covenant which violates the good faith of nations?"

"Suppose that under the military alliance and the super-austity, of Article X, a program of armed force, agreed upon, and the Congress of the United States declines to respond. The executive would be called upon to carry on a war without constitutional authority, or we should provide our compact no more than a scrap of paper. We are on the side of ourselves the decision of our obligation to the world. We have ever in progress, we did not fail to play it in that freedom of conscience and action which befits a confident republic. Men prate about violated obligations to the nations of the earth. The solemn truth is that our part in the world war was an obligation to ourselves, performed in the name of war. The world has to steady its feet. We have been talking about getting back to normal. That doesn't mean the old order, that doesn't mean looking back to the past. It is the short and easy way of saying 'again to stability,' once more to regularity. There hasn't been a backward look in America since the hundred years, but the highest assurance of the future with every the supreme story of human progress secure. We Republicans hold that the inherited plans of constitutional, representative popular government, with the inspirations of rationality and a fair chance for every man, have enabled men to write the supreme story of human progress, and we mean to hold the inheritance secure and to carry it on to greater and grander achievement."

"It is impossible to definitely fix our course amid the usual conditions of the world. The world has to steady its feet. We have been talking about getting back to normal. LIMA AD CLUB PLEDGES SUPPORT TO FIELD MAN IN CAMPAIGN THIS FALL

A special meeting of the board of directors of the Lima Advertising club was held last night at their rooms in Hotel Norval at the request of Chas. H. Morath, field secretary of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, to receive a message of importance to the Lima club.

Mr. Morath will return to Lima about the first of September to inaugurate and carry through an Advertising Club week preparatory to an active fall and winter program of events and meetings. This big week will start with a rousing meeting of other club bodies in the city. The board last night voted to cooperate with Mr. Morath to the fullest extent.

A report of the outgoing committee announced August 19th as the date for the outing at the lake for members and their wives or sweethearts. The Norval chef will accompany the party to provide the two meals of the day. J. E. West, chairman of the committee, gave a luncheon yesterday at the hotel for the committee members, Howard Dean, Morris Ruschbloom and Jack Roby.

MOTORCYCLE TAGS "CAMOUFLAGED," POLICE CHIEF ROUSH STATES

All motorcycle and automobile license tags must be placed on machines so that they may be easily seen and read by motor cops, Chief of Police Roush said Wednesday.

Chief Roush declared a number of motorcycle drivers in the city have the license tags bent around the rear wheel in such a shape that it is impossible to read more than two or three figures of the number at a glance. This also applies, in a few cases, to automobiles, the chief said. He declared drivers of machines which have the license tags in such a position that they cannot be read easily will be subject to arrest in the future.

More Parents Discuss "Puppy Love" in Answer to Letter from Mother.

Editor, The News and Times-Democrat.

I have watched your discussion in the paper on "puppy love" and I became interested enough to give you my opinion on the subject. The young people of today are not any worse than the young people of olden days. Some cranky parents make a lot of fuss over little things, and when something "this" comes along they do not know what to do, and never say anything at the time they should.

As time changes so do styles, and as the older people in their young days dressed according to the styles, so the young people dress now according to the present modes. If georgette blouses were in style then, they would have been worn as they are today.

Isn't it much better for a two-year-old girl to bring her boy friends to her home and entertain them, than to tell her parents she is going to a girl friend's home to spend the evening, and then go and meet the boy friend on a street corner. This gives people who are always attending to everyone else's business a chance to make a lot of scandal over something which could be avoided by the parents.

Let the boys and girls have a good time while they are young, and they will harm no one if they are left to enjoy themselves.

A THOUGHTFUL MOTHER

Editor, The News and Times-Democrat.

In request for views from parents on their opinions on "Puppy Love," I am very much interested, as I am a self-reliant man and never know what it was to confide in parents. The boy who goes to practical experience with life, and meets all the girl friends he wishes, will soon have a disregard for them. It will also make them more cautious in selecting their mates later.

It is certainly right for parents to instruct their children about life. Doubtless many mothers realize that times have changed. You had your day, let the children have theirs. Which do you mother prefer, puppy love affairs, or your boys with other boys racing juvenile court?

LEAVES $1,500,000 FOR YOUNGSTOWN AUDITORIUM

YOUNGSTOWN.—The city of Youngstown will receive $1,500,000 from the estate of the late Henry H. Stambaugh, for an auditorium, according to announcement made Wednesday. This exceeds by $500,000 the estimate made when Mr. Stambaugh, who was chairman of the Brier Hill Steel Company, died in January, 1919. Owing to present high costs there may be some delay, the will providing that the auditorium must be erected within seven years after the testator's death.

JAIL SENTENCE FOR SPEEDING

Ralph Schoonover Also Draws Fine—License Suspended

Ten days in the county jail, a $50 fine and suspension of his driver's license for 60 days, the stiffest sentence ever imposed in Judge Emmett Jackson's court for speeding, was given Ralph Schoonover, 18, oil worker, Second-st in criminal court Wednesday. This was Schoonover's second offense. A short time ago he was fined $25 after pleading guilty to speeding 53 miles an hour on the West-st road on a motorcycle. At that time he was warned that a second offense would be punished by a jail sentence. The lad's father, who was in court at the time, said he hoped the court would be able to impose some kind of punishment which would break the boy of speeding and probably save his life. The judge said the jail sentence would not be suspended.

Chief of Police Roush declared Wednesday he followed Schoonover and Lee Carter, 22, 219 W. Kibby-st from the Murphy-st carnival grounds at 10:30 Tuesday night. The men tried to escape, he said and were followed to a point near Vaughnsville before he finally succeeded in overtaking them and securing their numbers. This being Carter's first offense, he was only fined $10.

ANOTHER DECORATION FOR KING ALBERT

RIO DE JANEIRO.—Celso Bayma has presented to the Chamber of Deputies a motion re-establishing the Order of the Southern Cross, with a view of decorating foreigners who have rendered services to Brazil.

The principal object of this re-establishment is to decorate the King of Belgians during his forthcoming visit to Brazil.

The Order of the Southern Cross was instituted at the time of the national independence, thru the efforts of Jose Bonitacio, Brazil's foremost national hero, and was subsequently extinguished at the establishment of the Republican regime.

FINES FOR THREE FOR DRUNKENNESS

FOOT UP TOTAL OF $75

Fines aggregating $75 were imposed by Judge Emmett Jackson in criminal court, Wednesday, on charges of drunkenness. Joe Laymon, 29, Arch-ave and Dave Allen, 35, who told police he has no home, were arrested by police at 8:15 Tuesday night on W. Elm-st. When they pleaded guilty Wednesday to being drunk, they told the court they pooled their funds amounting to $5, and purchased a pint of liquor, from an unknown man. They were fined $25 each.

David A. Hill, 12, taller, arrested at 11 o'clock Tuesday night at the B. and O. station was fined $25, after pleading guilty Wednesday morning to drunkenness.

PEACH THE GREATEST SHORT SEASON FRUIT CROP OF THE STATES

WASHINGTON.—Peaches lead all other short-season tree fruits in the United States in the number of carloads shipped from producing regions annually, according to figures collected by the Bureau of Markets of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Considering all fruits, peaches rank fourth in carloads sent to market, being surpassed only by the long-season fruits—apples and oranges—and by watermelons. The approximate yearly average number of cars the four fruits mention, reaching market during the past four years are: Apples, 67,000; oranges, 35,000; watermelons, 29,000; peaches, 25,000.

The only close competitors of peaches at the markets of the United States are grapes, of which about 22,000 carloads were shipped annually, and cantaloupes, the annual shipments of which were approximately 17,000 cars. The carloads of strawberries and pears shipped were slightly less than half those of peaches. An average of approximately 7,000 carloads of grapefruit and 3,000 cars of plums and prunes combined were shipped annually for the past four years.

The combined peach shipments of Georgia and California are as great as those of all other States combined.

PICNIC IS PLANNED

Elida Gathering this Year Will be Big Affair

Preparations are being made to make the 26th annual Pioneer picnic at Elida this year one of the biggest ever held. The picnic will be held at the Crites Grove, one mile east of Elida, Thursday, August 12th. The affair presents an opportunity afforded by no other gathering in the county of renewing friendships of other days. Several thousand people, many of them from a distance are expected to attend the affair.

The picnic will be an all day affair, entire families going to the grove early in the morning, and taking with them well-filled baskets. The speaker for the day will be the Rev. Franklin A. Stiles, well known Lima minister. A number of other speakers are also on the program. Music will be furnished by the Cornet band.

The grounds are easily accessible from the traction line. Special stops will be made, and autos will be run during the day to and from Elida.

BREWERS CHARGED WITH VIOLATING DRY LAW

CHICAGO.—A list of Chicago brewers who are said to have violated the prohibition law by making beer with an alcoholic content greater than one half of one percent, was forwarded to Washington Wednesday by Major A. V. Dahyale, district prohibition enforcement officer. The major refused to give out the names, but said the action was the result of two weeks' investigation, in which samples of beer from every brewery in Chicago were taken.

"Thousands of dollars in excise taxes will be collected from the owners of breweries," Major Dahyale said, "in one case, where a large amount of beer was seized, taxes amounting to $30,000 were levied against the firm." Hundreds of the samples contained one to two and three-quarter percent, the major said.

They end corns now in this scientific way

People who know—millions of them—now end all corns in this way.

They apply Blue-jay either in liquid or in plaster form. It means but a touch and takes but a jiffy.

The corn pain stops. Then the Blue-jay gently undermines the corn so it loosens and comes out.

The modern way

Blue-jay was invented by a chemist who studied corns.

It is made by a laboratory of world-wide repute.

Old-time treatments were harsh and inefficient. Blue-jay is gentle, quick and sure.

Now all corns are needless. All these pains can be avoided. To let corns remain while you pare and pad them is folly.

You can stop a corn ache the moment it appears. You can end a corn completely before it can develop.

Blue-jay has proved these facts to millions. It will prove them to you—and tonight—if you let it.

Quit the old methods of dealing with corns and see what this new way means. Your druggist sells Blue-jay.

GIANTS CRASH THRU REDS FOR SERIES AFTER HONORS

BY JOE BERNSTEIN

THREE in a row turned the trick for the New York Giants, save them the edge on the Cincinnati Reds in the series that has just been completed, and makes them an important factor in the race for the National league flag.

Their steady march towards the upper heights of the standings, during the past week or so has been rewarded, and today they stand fourteen points over the .400 mark and are ready to oust the Reds from second at any time.

It was a gala day in the big city when McGraw's men trounced the Reds 11 to 1 in the final game of the series. A big melon was sliced by the New York management and each of the performers on the Giant outfit collected $1,000 as a special reward for their noble efforts.

It makes the National league race, beginning with today, a three corner affair with the Giants on the long end of anything that might be placed. Brooklyn looks due for a break, and the Reds appear utterly incapable of advancing any further.

The Giants alone have been able to add points to their standing, and if they keep it up for the rest of the season, the leader on the final day of the race will be the team that was figured clear out of the honors, not more than three weeks ago.

Eller, Ring and Fisher, were sent against the Giants Tuesday by Manager Moran in an effort to stem a slugging tide that gave New York runs in every inning but the sixth and eighth. None of the Cincinnati twirlers were able to stop the advance of the Giants.

It must have been thru sheer luck that they were able to save themselves from a shutout. Cincinnati's one counter came in the fifth.

LEAGUE TALK MEETS WITH FAVOR

Announcement of the decision of a number of men in the city to make another attempt to give the city league baseball, has met with considerable favorable comment.

Organized ball has been looked upon with envious eyes by a good many of the fans of the city who desire this city to be in on a running of something. However, past attempts to bring league ball to this city have failed.

Failures have been attributed to the fact that in the past, talk of league ball has been started just about the time a team should be set-

WILL IT BE A REAL BATTLE?

That's just the question that the ring bugs are asking about the coming Dempsey-Miske battle at Benton Harbor.

Sounds nice, the two names together, but it may be different after they get in the ring. Dempsey isn't making enough money out of the scrap to take much trouble with it. He has beaten Miske before, and it looks like he'll stay with the challenger just long enough this time to slip over a haymaker—and that's all.

But the Miske managers are getting pretty confident, it seems. Now they're asking that a referees decision be made to tell the tale.

MAY TRANSFER COLONELS TO DAYTON

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—That he Louisville franchise of the American Association may be transferred to Dayton next season, appeared to be a strong possibility Tuesday.

The Colonels have been drawing poorly and William F. Knebelkamp, principal owner of the team, Tuesday refused to state whether he would keep the club in Louisville another season.

"I have no motion now of moving the team to Dayton," he said, "but cannot say what I may do in the future. Louisville is the smallest city in the Association and supports its team the poorest of any member in the circuit. I am trying to make money out of the club and will do anything I think necessary to protect my interests as well as those of the fans who are interested with me."

ENTRIES IN 2:10 TROT AT MIAMI MAKE EVENT LOOK LIKE A CONSOLATION RACE

TOLEDO, O.—Thirty horses are on the program to compete in the third day of Grand Circuit racing at Fort Miami Wednesday.

There are four events on the card, purses aggregating $6,000. There are eight starters in the 2:10 trot for a purse of $1,500, and in the Toledo Blade $7,000 stake for two-year-olds in the 2:14 class, seven in the $12,000, 2:09 pace and six in the legal News $1,500 stake for two-year-old trotters.

According to the opinion of the horsemen the 2:10 trot looks like a consolation race as there is not a Grand Circuit winner in the bunch. Winter Wood, a bay mare by Ed Winter, owned by A. McDonald of Indianapolis, is the early favorite.

In the 2:14 trot Royal or Holly Road Nami will be choice of the talent. Hazel Kuestner is the favorite in the 2:09 pace altho it is not known how the mare will pace with a new driver behind her. Ed Allen, who has been handling her has been barred for 30 days for alleged dishonest driving at Columbus last week.

Favonian, winner in his first start here three weeks ago is likely to be the two-year-old event with Jane Volo ruling second choice.

TOLEDO GETS READY FOR GOLFERS

TOLEDO — Arrangements were completed Wednesday for the operation of a fleet of motor busses for the accommodation of golfers taking part in the national open tournament to be played on the Inverness course next week.

Local promoters of the tournament were notified Wednesday that Bobby Jones, twice southern title holder and medalist in the Western Amateur at Memphis a week ago, will arrive Saturday morning. He has made reservations at one of the leading hotels.

BROCK TRIMS McCANN OF AKRON

AKRON.—Matt Brock, Cleveland, gave Billy McCann, Akron, a severe beating in every round of their 12 round bout here Tuesday. Brock's lightning ability was too much for the Irish battler who was hoisted for his knicker. The men are lightweights.

The sheriff stopped the scheduled 10-round semi-windup between Willie Devore, Akron featherweight and Art Strawhacker, Cleveland, after Devore had punned his opponent for seven rounds. He had Strawhacker all flat out several times.

Karo Kid Walters, Canton welterweight, knocked out Nick Leonard, Akron, in the fourth round of a scheduled eight-round bout. In the preliminary Chicago Red Halper, lightweight, easily outpointed Sammy Schurmann, in eight rounds.

DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

BY PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

THRILLS ENOUGH FOR A LIFETIME

Some start, I'll say! Wow! Just to think back on it, from the secure depths of my rose-colored chaise-longue makes the shivers go up and down my back.

First of all we skinned, along the top of the water; that was charming, and all that the heart and courage of a perfect lady could wish for—but that's not the while of the flight.

First thing you know, and all unthinking, for I had just felt the sparkling spray of the Delaware dashing up into my face. I looked down at my side, and—

First thing you know, and all unthinking, for I had just felt the sparkling spray of the Delaware dashing up into my face. I looked down at my side, and—

The breath seemed to leave my ambitious young body at the thought and sight of same. Here I hung suspended in mid-air, with nothing but a filmy little seat and the brains of one man-creature between me and a cold death in that river below.

Frightened as I was, I was just professional enough to take a pretty good look at everything below me. That placid river now looked like a long sullen snake, with here and there a spot of color on its surface. It seemed cruel and treacherous, and I was waiting my young body. Yes, I died ten deaths right there, and awful ones; saw the plane dashed a-top of a passing ship; saw myself floating, bruised and lifeless on its untrodden waters. And Lord knows what I did not see and imagine!

That's how I am made, I reckon. At this point Raymond ascended still higher, and the gaze into eternity hundreds of feet below—miles it seemed to me—was just too much for me. The wind was a million miles an hour, and I could hardly draw my breath, but was so hopping outraged that I screamed this apoplectic to Raymond.

Did he hear me? He did not. Nay, the fatuous one cast a glance in my direction once or twice amiably, despite my open mouth and bulging eyes. He did not get me at all. Thought I was having the time of my life and all that.

Finally he did see a light, and that was because I threw my hands before my terrified face, in a so-help-me-Lord sort of way, and I heard him shout something to me. Of course I did not hear it, but I did with all my remaining strength point wildly down to where terra firma, more rapidly disappearing than ever, winked up at me from below. How I longed for the old earth, now! I resolved to never look again whenever I had to walk too far on same dear old earth, believe me.

Raymond flew on a while longer, believing no doubt that I would not over this first fright, which I did to a certain extent, for as he flew down the river towards Will...

such a joyful feeling of exhilaration came over me as never before. Here, up in the air near the heavens, one was veritably free—the elements make one quite giddy, by the way.

I peeked down again, and this time was delighted at the sight of the small villages and ribbon like river now mere specks it appeared.

LOVE AND MARRIED LIFE

BY IDA MCGLONE GIBSON

JOHN IS ANGRY

"You see, John," said Bobby with a laugh, "that you never can bank on a woman not changing her mind."

"I haven't changed my mind, Bobby," I said with a smile. "I have always intended that this room should be hung with this beautiful gold paper."

"Why didn't you tell me you were going to do this," interrupted John angrily. "You didn't ask me anything about it," I answered, "and I naturally supposed that, as the house was a gift to me, I should be allowed to exercise my own taste in decorations and furnishings."

"But everything you have had before this has been colonial, and so that settled that matter."

"Probably that was the reason I wanted something different."

"It cost me $325 for the paper on this room," said John.

"Can't Use Them" "I am sorry," I answered, "because I can not possibly use this paper with the furnishings I am going to put into the room."

"But, but, Elizabeth said she knew," and then John stopped in confusion, while I caught a look of comprehension passing between Helen and Bobby.

"Well, you see, John," I said sweetly, "Elizabeth was mistaken. She didn't know anything about it. I am sorry if she has gotten you into this, particularly as you say you have paid $725 for decorations. But after this, perhaps, you will realize that I am perfectly able to decorate and furnish my own home."

"It was rather a nasty thing to say, I know, but I felt I had to say it before Helen and Bobby, because if I had not done so, it would have led to an endless quarrel with John. As it was, Bobby interrupted with a hearty laugh saying, 'Katherine got you there, John. You had better give in.'"

John subsided, but he quaked all through the Gaylord's visit, and he would not go home with me to the hotel, saying that he had a luncheon engagement with some business friends.

Bobby went away with John, and Helen accepted my invitation for luncheon at the hotel. I think she was rather curious to see if my prophecy regarding a letter from Karl

We flew round and round and to my astonishment Raymond began to twist about and dip in an alarming way. However, by this time I was acclimated and merely thought, well death up here is no worse than death from a distance of five hundred feet.

After all a while we flew back to Essington, and it was really beautiful. When we finally hit the silvery waters again and the spray dashed up into my dazed face, I was quite sorry that the journey was over.

AN OVERBURDENED WIFE

If the work that women do and the pain they suffer could be measured in figures, what a terrible array they would present! Their girlhood, wifehood and motherhood women toil on, often suffering with backaches, pain in the side, headaches and nervousness which are tell-tale symptoms of organic derangements which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—made from roots and herbs—can undoubtedly correct. Women who suffer should not give up hopes until they give it a trial.

AEROPLANES TO HERD CROP KILLING DUCKS

WILLOW, Cal. — The Aeroplane has solved a problem for Glenn County rice growers. Annually huge losses are sustained by the rice growers when thousands of migratory wild ducks settle down to feed on the rice plantations. This year a fleet of planes will be used to herd the ducks from their feeding grounds.

NEW YORK.—Readjustment of the speculative position caused a general rally before midday in which the railroad stocks made the best showing. Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, Northwestern, Reading and various low-priced shares scored advances of one to 1-2 points. Industrials responded to vigorous short covering. Unfavorable foreign news and comment regarding business conditions in the steel industry and other industries lost their influence in the face of the confident buying of railroad issues which suggested a change in speculative sentiment. American Cotton Oil declined seven points as a result of the rumor of a dividend. A lower renewal rate for call money and a slight recovery in sterling exchange rates contributed to the better feeling.

The market opened in a confused fashion, with the majority of important shares showing a decided downward tendency. A further drop in sterling exchange of six cents on the unfavorable foreign news induced liquidation and short selling which counteracted supporting orders and the favorable effect produced by yesterday's late relaxation in call money rates. Mexican Petroleum, Baldwin, the steels, Central Leather, U. S. Rubber, Corn Products, Great Northern preferred, Chesapeake and Ohio and New Haven were depressed 1 to 2 points.

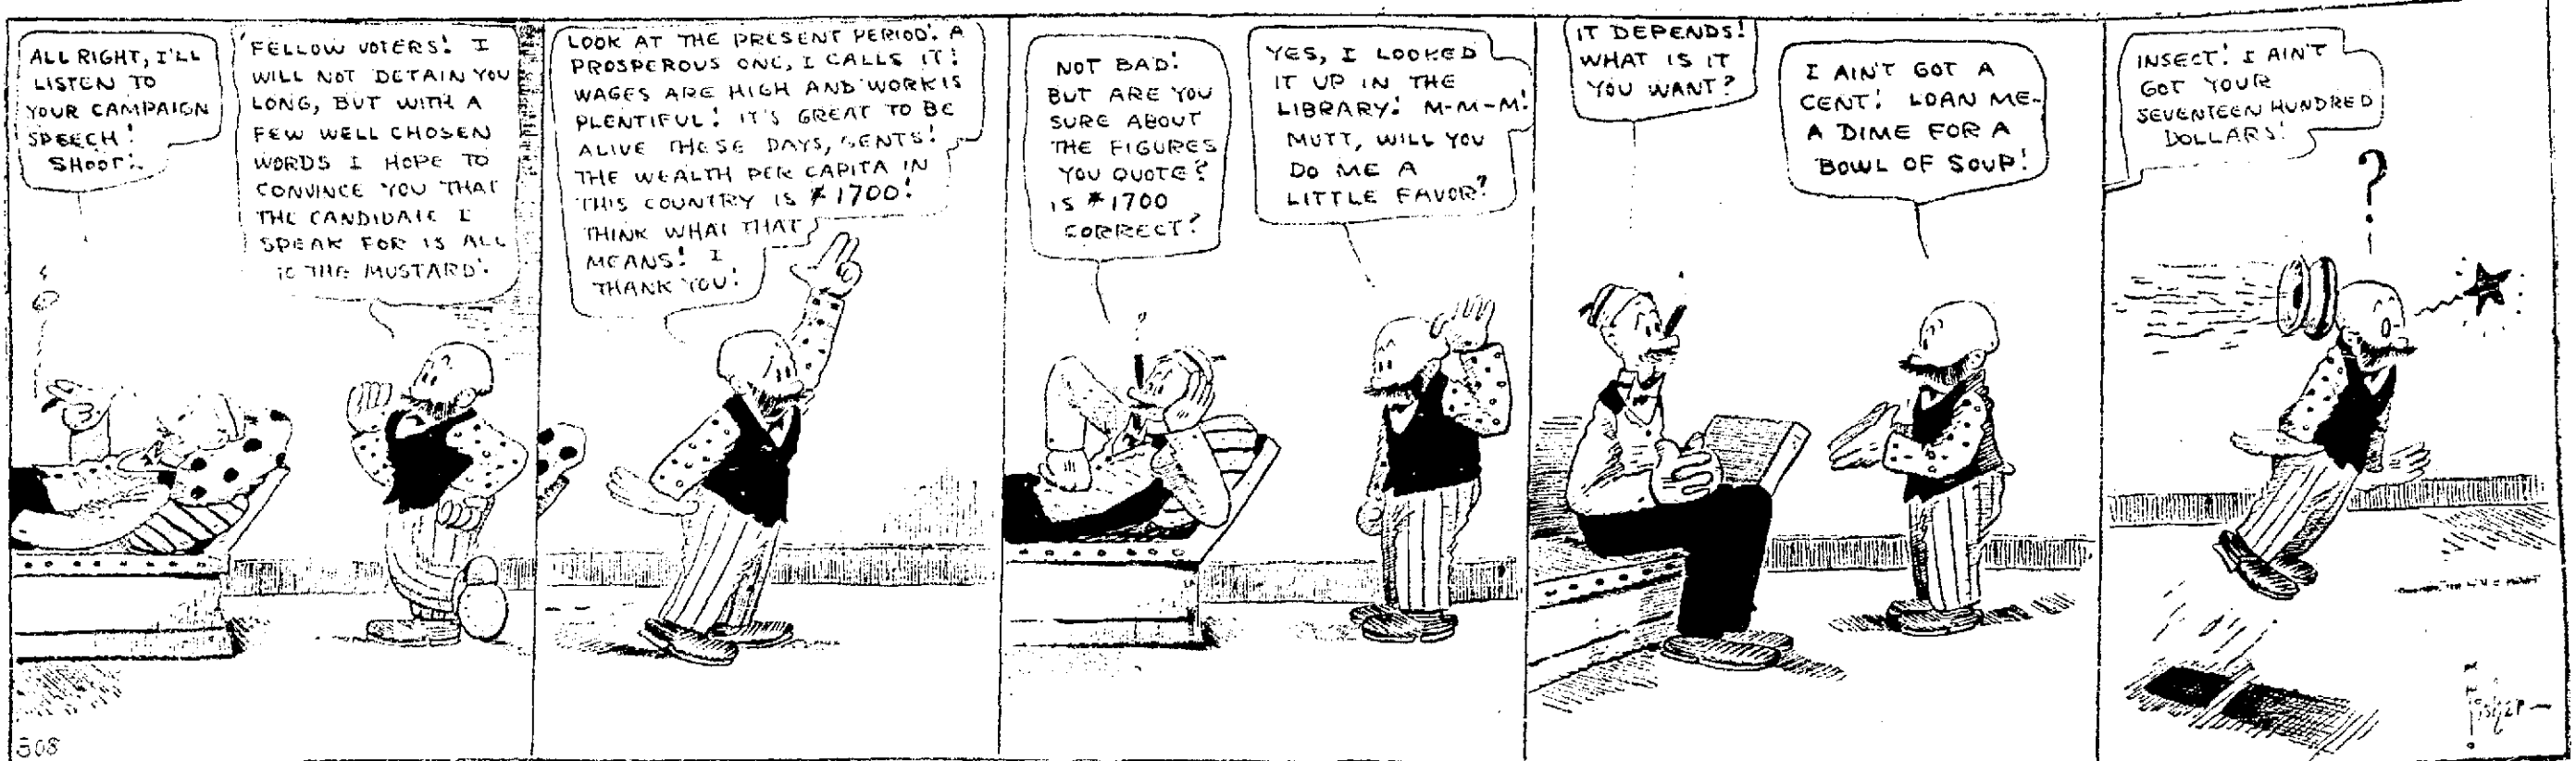

Technical conditions caused substantial rallies aided by easier money and investment buying of railroad stocks and bonds. Sales approximated $50,000 shares.

"Brown," said the manager of the bank, "there'll be a vacancy in the position."

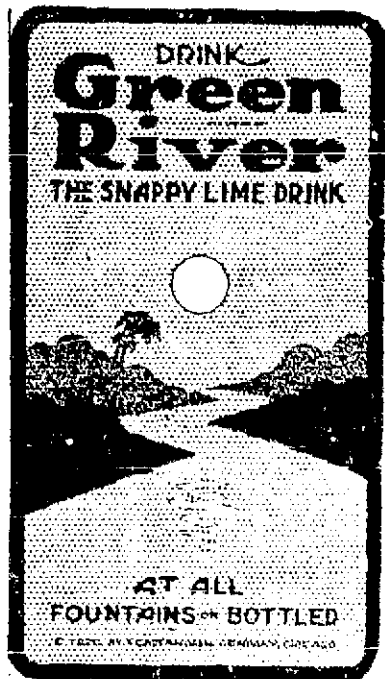

"My twin brother?" exclaimed Brown. "But—"

"I mean the one I saw at the baseball game yesterday while you were at your aunt's funeral."

"Oh—er—yes," said Brown. "I—I remember; I'll go and fetch him."

"Good," said the manager, "and don't come back till you've found him."

"Mr. Grabson spent thousands of dollars on his daughter's education. She attended some of the most expensive schools in America and Europe. She was taught to sing, to paint, to play various instruments and to speak three or four languages."

"But let me tell you how shamelessly she repaid her father's tender care. She came back home and married his chauffeur."

"Splendid! A girl possessing her wealth and with her accomplishments might have married a broken-down duke."

The hostess had trouble in getting Mr. Harper to sing. After the song had been given, she came up with a smiling face to her guest.

If you feel nervous and irritable all the time and continually worry over trifles, there's something wrong. Don't give up; back of it all may be just weak kidneys. Just as more wear is a cause of kidney weakness, so is kidney trouble a cause of nervousness. If you have backache, "blues," dizzy, nervous spells, headache, kidney irregularities, a tired, worn feeling, try Doan's Kidney Pills. They are recommended by thousands. Ask your neighbor.

How a Lima Woman Was Freed
Mrs. A. T. Marshall, 464 W. Walter St., says: "My back ached and I had dull, bearing-down pains then it, especially after I overworked. I couldn't live much and every time I did a hard day's work, my back ached awful. Sometimes I was quite dizzy and for a minute or so everything turned dark. I began using Doan's Kidney Pills and found them to be helpful. They relieved the pain in my back and I felt better all over."

and made this ambiguous remark: "Now, Mr. Harper, you must never tell me again that you can't sing—I know now!"

Prominent Man Could See Big Change at Once

Often had dizzy spells, backache, headache, catarrh of the head and nose, gastritis and indigestion.

Draco, the new remedy, gave him quick relief.

Imagine suffering for years with stomach trouble; imagine not being able to enjoy a single meal in all that time. Wouldn't you be happy if, after all those years, you finally discovered a medicine that relieved your troubles? Wouldn't you just be ready to offer up a prayer of thanksgiving and joy to heaven for the new found health?

This, in substance, has been the remarkable experience of a well known man right here in this section. Here are some of the things he says in regard to his signed statement. He is Mr. Peter Schlessor, well known yard engineer for the R. & O., living at 549 N. McDonald St., Lima, O.

"I have had to be very careful for years about my eating, as my stomach has been in bad condition. About three weeks ago I bought some Draco, and that was the turning point for me. I believe the first dose helped, for my stomach was soothed and the gastritis relieved. Continuing the treatment has completely overcome that stomach disorder, roused my sluggish liver to action, strengthened my kidneys, which put a stop to backache and sore, aching muscles."

"I have a wonderful appetite; my strength has increased, I sleep sound, and the constipation is over come. My stomach is better than in many a year, and I eat things now I never dared eat before. Draco is sure a great medicine and deserves all the good things said about it."

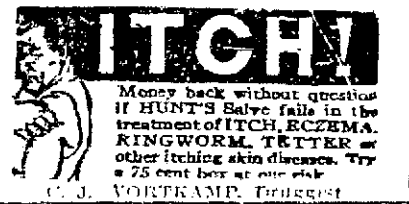

Draco is made from the juices of twelve different herbs, root barks and leaves, which act directly on the stomach, liver, kidneys, bladder and the blood, and tends to relieve constipation, headache, rheumatism, catarrh, biliousness, dizzy spells, heart fluttering, gas on the stomach and other troubles.

Draco is now sold by all good druggists and is highly recommended in Lima by Balch's Central Drug Store, 101 N. Main and High-st.

"Those people never read a newspaper from one year's end to the other."

"That doesn't matter; they've engaged a maid who's lived in about every other family on the block."
